AVANTE-SCHMIDT Foundation for Cancer Research, Awareness & Patient Support (CRAPS)

By 2015, one in every three Nigerians will be affected directly or indirectly by a cancer diagnosis of a loved one. In cancer research and treatment centers throughout the world, some progress is being made - especially in children's and certain adult cancers. In spite of this, treatment of some of the most common tumors has shown only limited improvement.

We are convinced that there is one serious impediment to progress in the cancer war that is not being adequately addressed: awareness. At the AVANTE SCHMIDT Foundation for Cancer Research, Awareness & Patient Support (CRAPS), we have taken it upon ourselves to raise awareness about the threat cancer poses to our lives.

Fundraisers, awareness/charity walks and free screenings are some of the worthwhile endeavors our foundation plans on embarking upon over the coming years. You can be a part of this noble cause. Click here to volunteer or donate today.
